THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The following proclamation was issued by the President to-day:

A PROCLAMATION.—At no recurrence of the season which the devout habits of religious people have made the occasion for giving thanks to Almighty God, and humbly invoking his continued blessings, has the material prosperity enjoyed by our country been more conspicuous, and our manifold more universal. During the past year, also, unbroken peace and foreign relations, the general prevalence of domestic tranquility, the supremacy and security of the institutions of civil and religious freedom, have gladdened the hearts of our people and confirmed their attachment to their government, which the wisdom and courage of our ancestors so fully framed, and the wisdom and courage their descendants have so firmly maintained, to be the habitation of liberty and justice to successive generations. Now, therefore, I, Rutherford B.
Hayes, President of the United States, do appoint

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25th, as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, and I earnestly recommend that, withdrawing themselves from secular cares and labors, the people of the United States do meet together on that day in their respective places of worship, there to give thanks and praise to Almighty God for his mercies, and to devoutly beseech their continuance.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this 24 day of November, in the year of our Lord thousand, eight hundred and seventy-nine, and of the independence of the United States one hundred and fourth. RUTHERFORD B. HAYES.
By the President: WM. M. EVANS, Secretary of State.

This is a Nation with a big N and by a big majority.

Since the election the Democrats have done a good deal of scratching—on the head.

Governor Smith has appointed Thursday the 27th day of November, as a day of Thanksgiving. There are a good many booms to be thankful for this year.

James Anthony Froude is preparing a paper on Romanism and the Irish race in America, to appear in the December number of the North American Review.

Douglas county, in this State, cast 63 votes at the recent election. There is only one voting precinct in the county, and some of the voters had to ride nearly thirty miles to reach the polls.

It is generally conceded that Cham Ingersoll, of Belmont, will be re-elected Sergeant-at-arms of the Senate. He made an excellent official last winter, performing the duties of the office so acceptably as to bar any objections to his re-election. Mr.
Charles E. Dross, of Madison, will also be re-elected Chief Clerk of the Senate. A more capable man for that position can not be found in the State.

Janaushek went to Hudson in this State to play one night a few days ago, and when he reached the hall, which in mockery is called Music Hall, he found it so filthy that she was compelled to quit the place and cancel the engagement. The eminent tragedienne told the people there that she was not accustomed to acting in a spit-bow.
This is a fitting rebuke to the town and the man who owns the hall.

Well how does this read: "The banner Republican county of Wisconsin has 100 saloons in full blast." At least this is the way temporarily reads the paper.

We clip the above from the Janesville Times, of Saturday. The county referred to is Milwaukee, which recently gave a Republican majority of twenty-three hundred. But Milwaukee is not the banner Republican county of the State. The official figures show that Rock county is the banner Republican county of Wisconsin, it having given the greatest majority for Governor Smith; and besides that, it has a less number of saloons, according to its population, than any other county in the State.

The question as to who will be Speaker of the next Assembly is being discussed already. Fred Horn, who has been elected an Independent, has been Speaker three terms—in 1851, 1854, and 1875. In 1875, the Republicans voted for him for Speaker, but the party majority being now so great in the Assembly, it is not likely he will receive the votes of the Republicans. A few years ago he became dissatisfied with the Democratic party and left it, and since that time has been an Independent, but still leaning toward his own party. For that reason it is not likely that he will receive the votes of the Republicans for Speaker. Mr. C. L.
Colby, of Milwaukee, President of the Wisconsin Central railway, is spoken of as a fit man for the office. He has no Legislative experience, but is a man of keen perception, is quick in action, has good address, and is already pretty familiar with parliamentary law and the rules of the Assembly.
Mr. A. A. Arnold, of Trempealeau county, has been re-elected to the Assembly. He was in that body in 1871, and was in the Senate in 1874 and '75. He is a man of education and his Legislative experience should qualify him for the office of Speaker. There seems to be but little timber for the place, but there will be numerous candidates nevertheless.

THE HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

The investigation of the charges made by the Milwaukee Sentinel against the management of the House of Correction, has been vigorously pushed during the past week, and on Saturday noon, the State Board of Charities decided to take a rest of ten days. The testimony so far is a disgrace to the House of Correction. It has been a house of infamy, if half the witnesses can be believed and half what they testify to, is true. The managers have been proud in their language toward the convicts, brutal in their treatment of nearly all classes of inmates, and have, as a general rule, furnished the convicts with the poorest possible food. So far the investigation has been conducted very thoroughly, and the indications very strongly lead to the conclusion that the

NEW YORK.

The Very Latest Returns of the State Election.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Tribune says it has made special returns from counties where they are still lacking. With the results thus obtained, and with careful estimates in a very few cases where they were necessary, Ward for Attorney General has a majority of more than 9,000.
Wardworth for Controller, a majority of more than 8,000. Carr for Secretary of State one of 450, and H. Kins, Lieut. Governor, somewhere about 1,400. Returns upon the vote for State Treasurer are so incomplete that no deliberate statement of them can be made, but there is nothing to show that Wendell is running behind his ticket, or in any danger of defeat.

FOR 1880.

National Republican Committee—The Next National Convention.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—There will be a meeting of the National Republican Committee in Washington on the 17th of December, at which time the selection of a place to hold the next National Convention will be made. There is every probability that Chicago will be chosen, as the city offers better facilities than any other place except New York, although the last-named city will make an effort for it, as will Philadelphia also. The Saratoga people have offer to hold the convention at that place.
The committee will be appropriated with reluctance to the death of its Chairman, Senator Chandler, and select his successor, which will be only a matter of form, as the only body the committee will perform will be to call the next National Convention to order. The election of Secretary is more important. R. C. Mc-Cormick, who was Secretary, resigns two years ago, when the President's mandate about official meddling in politics was issued, for fear he should be kicked out of office. But McCormick was an inefficient and useless Secretary, and his place can easily be filled. His successor will have all the arrangement of details of the next convention.

GALENA.

General Grant's First Sunday at Home.

GALENA, Ill., Nov. 9.—Contrary to the expectations of the good Methodist people of this city, General Grant did not attend divine services at their church to-day, but has remained quietly at home, reading the newspapers and taking a rest. His time of late has been principally engaged in perusing and answering letters, of which he receives an immense pile daily. Yesterday the General took a short ride in the country visiting the well known Marsden Digges on the way. He was also engaged for a short time in arranging some business with a son of the late General John A.
Rawlins, for whom he is guardian.

A wagon load of boxes, containing copies of official records of General Grant's first Presidential term, was received at the express office in this city to-day.

BOARD OF CANVASSERS.

The Appointments by Chief Justice Ryan.

MADISON, Nov. 9.—By Sec. 55 of the Revised Statutes of 1878 the Secretary of State, Treasurer, and Attorney-General are constituted a Board of State Canvassers to count the votes cast at any election for State officers and publish the result of their count, but when a member of said Board is candidate for an office as to which the votes are to be canvassed by him the Chief Justice is required to designate some other State officer or a Judge of a Circuit Court, who shall act in his stead at the session of the Court at which the votes given for such members are to be canvassed.
The State officers made canvassers by this statute being this year all candidates for election, it devolves on the Chief Justice to appoint the entire Board, and he understands that, in pursuance of this statute the Chief Justice has appointed Judge David M. Small, of the Second Circuit; Judge Alva Stewart, of the Ninth Circuit; and Judge H. S.
Conger, of the Twelfth Circuit, as the canvassers. The Secretary of State is required to appoint a meeting of State Canvassers, to be held at his office on or before the 15th day of December next after the election, for the purpose of canvassing the vote. This is a new provision, the State officers having always heretofore been the canvassers, whether they were their own successors or not.

GENERAL GRANT.

His Reception in Chicago—How He will be Entertained while There—The Programme for a Week.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—When General Grant reaches the Palmer House on Wednesday, he will leave his carriage, and meet in the rotunda the Citizens' Reception Committee of 500, headed by Mayor Harrison, who will deliver a brief address of welcome.
This over, the General will take a position on the State street balcony and review the gan avenue, between Twenty-second and and Dearborn streets, under the auspices Prof. Swing, the annual State oration by Judge Gresham, of Indianapolis, Gov. Cullom, Gen. W. T. Sherman, Mayor Harrison,

Grant is expected to be present. Gen. Logan, Oglesby, Col. Robert Ingersoll, the Hon. E. A. Storrs, and other prominent speakers have been invited to address the meeting. The following is the programme:

1. Patriotic call—Music by Martial Band.
2. Welcome to each of the States and the District of Columbia, represented by thirty-eight young ladies.

gion.

7. Introduction of General U. S. Grant.
8. Music by Glee Club.

10. Music.

At noon the General will lunch with the Hon. E. B. Washburne, at his residence, corner of White and La Salle streets.

From 2 to 3 in the afternoon the General and Mrs. Grant will receive the members and guests and ex-soldiers, at the Palmer house.

In the evening the General will attend the banquet of the Army of the Tennes-

Grant in the afternoon.

a reception tendered him by the Chicago Club.

Veterans at the Grand Pacific.

at the same hotel.

In the evening he will attend a reception at the residence of Mrs. Potter Palmer, corner of Dearborn avenue and Oak

The General will attend church in the morning, which one's yet undecided, and remain at his home the rest of the day.

MONDAY.

Reception of school children between 12
m. and 3 p. m. at the Exposition Building.

At 3:30 the General will witness the exhibition drill of the Fire Insurance Patrol at their house on Monroe street near La Salle.

In the evening he will attend the reception of the Calumet Club, corner of Michigan avenue and Eighteenth street.
Tuesday morning the General expects to be able to return to Galena, but before making to keep him there that day also, but whether they will be successful or not is yet uncertain.

DESPERATE TEAMSTER.

RAWLINS, WY. T., Nov. 9.—This afternoon, Francis Murray, government teamster, while intoxicated, shot and fatally wounded Charles Chapman, of Los Angeles, California. Murray then released his carbine and revolver, with the intention of clearing out the neighborhood of the government wagon corral. He had fired several shots at citizens and soldiers when Sheriff J. G. Rutkin came on the scene, and seeing it impossible to capture Murray, he shot dead Chapman to himself and others, and on him with a double barreled shot gun, killing him instantly. The Coroner's jury exonerated the Sheriff.

FATAL RUNAWAY.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 9.—A team of horse belonging to a farmer named Boyd, residing near Prospect Hill, Waukesha county, ran away on West Water street yesterday noon. Near Menomonee street bridge they knocked down and ran over a man named Ernst Kohnenber, inflicting spinal injuries that must necessarily prove fatal.
Kohnenber was taken to his home in the town of Oak Creek. He is 40 years of age, and has a family.

A Scene that Startles the Beholder Near Lake Tahoe.

Good Company Number Two.
Around the foot of a steep slope, where a spur of the mountain thrusts its shoulder into the water, the road runs its winding way. Following this the traveler comes at last to a peaceful spot, whose quiet would throw the most timorous soul into ecstasy. Death lurks in a bush here, however, and where there are logs, black flags, yellow flags, red lanterns, skulls and cross-bones in abundance, there is no omen of his distinguished and pallid presence other than a mild warning, marked on a strip of board and tacked to a stump, which is not so deep in the evergreens that none but the most vigilant of observers would notice it. It is the premonitory signal: "Look out for logs!" Reading this indefinite hint the traveler might feel a languid curiosity as to what it meant, but he would hardly construe it as significant of peril. Perchance by day he would look around in logs beautiful with lichen, or by night for logs beautiful with "fox fire" but as for apprehension of danger, that log emblem of all that is inert and stupid, has always been con-

WHO IS CHRIST?
Jones and his seven brethren have been telling who is Christ, and they who read could tell better now Than they could tell before. Whose pen Can answer?

True, some hand may lift The latch and point the way, but more Another cannot. Each must open his door by opening up his soul's To the Divine. That life the way, The truth, the life, will come by prayer, Not reason. Truth, like rocks must turn To soil as charity, before The heavenly plants can grow therein.
This turning's the dissolving work Of elements in man as well As nature. God is over all.
Yet man must plough the field Weary, and sad, and worn, else it A wilderness remains. Ne'er doubt, The universe is full of God.
As is the air we breathe of life.
Plough on and look not back, but raise Your grain and fruits, your flocks and herds, Until that field's an Eden. This is The way to solve the question, who is Christ—be like Him, a sinner, more We are like Him, we worship Him.

Jones and his seven brethren will call me like the heathen, in That I must rest my mind upon Its object when I worship, and As a presence in me, but God As person, very man. The Jew Adored Jehovah man supreme, While I adore Him nearer still, Incarnate. He to me is the Exponent of the Father. All I know of God's in Him. On Him My prayer and thought must terminate In worship, else I flatter in Fathomless space, homeless, alone.

—The Ladies Art Class will meet at Mrs. J. P. Haire's residence Wednesday at 3 p. m., to re-organize for the winter's study.
—Rev. Mr. Chapell led the meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association this morning. It is their week of special prayer.
—Christians will be glad missed by those in jail who have got tired of hearing him trying to sing "Rally Round the Flag."

—Jeffrey stepped into the Gazette office today and weighed himself. He found that he only lost four pounds during his six days' walk.
—Mr. A. C. Kent favors the Gazette with a sample of the sugar now being made at the refinery in this city, from sorghum. It is light colored and of good quality.
—E. V. Whiton & Co. have hoisted a new and nobby sign over the front of their drug store. The store outside and inside looks finely, owing to the late improvements.

—Jeffrey completed his six days' walk Saturday night. He only scored about 281 miles, the record not being speedily enough to excite much interest. We trust he will have better luck next time!
—To-morrow morning's meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held by Rev. Mr. F. Paville. Topic—"The Son of a Godly Father, who went astray." The meeting will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

—The annual business meeting of the Rock County Bible Society, which was to have been held to-day, has been postponed for one week, to allow time for getting more complete returns of collections taken in the churches.

—Moung Edwin is to give a free lecture at the Baptist church next Friday evening, at which time he will speak of the customs, habits, etc., of Burmah, and will appear in his native costume. He will exhibit various articles of interest also.

—Matt Green, who has kept straight for nearly a year, was on one of his old-fashioned "hurrabs" Saturday night, and Marshal Russell had to lead him in. This morning he dropped about $5 into the Police Court wallet, and went on his way to resume work on a farm.

—The awning which has so long shadowed the front of Moseley's bookstore has been taken down. The front shows up much better. Moseley has done nobly, and it is to be hoped others will do likewise, as the store will not only look better, but the appearance of the street will be greatly improved.

—Arrangements have been perfected by which the Bower City Band is to go to Chicago with the Janesville Guards to take part in the Grant reception. The Chicago folk seem to feel good about the prospects of the band coming with the Guards, and place it as the best of all the bands which will be there.

—The drama of "The Phoenix" is to be presented at the Opera house Wednesday night by Milton Noble's and his dramatic company promises to draw a large house. It is a thrilling play, and is worthy of a full house, as all can testify who saw it presented here before. The sale of tickets has commenced at Moseley's.

—As Mr. and Mrs. John McWay, of Johnston, were proceeding homeward Saturday night, and had reached a slight hill about six miles from the city, their horse shied, and the buggy was overturned throwing them both to the ground. Mr. McWay escaped with a few scratches only, but his wife was more seriously injured. Dr. Palmer was called, and an examination showed that her collar bone was broken.

—Mr. James Long was emptying a pail at the rear door of his store Saturday evening, when he fell out upon the ground, striking upon his head and shoulders. He was picked up in an unconscious condition, and Dr. Judd was summoned, who found that it was a paralytic stroke, affecting mainly the left side. Yesterday Mr. Long became partially conscious, and to-day he is feeling much better, and is able to move a little, though still suffering from pain and soreness.

—The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist church will hold its second quarterly anniversary at the First Methodist church next Wednesday evening. There are to be recitations, music, brief addresses, etc. Mrs. Day is expected to give a reading, and Mrs. St. John is to sing. At the close of the exercises refreshments are to be served to all who desire. The meeting is open to all, and all are invited to come.

—There was "trouble in de church" last night. Two or three of those who attended the meeting of the African Methodist church last evening, became unruly, and they had to be put out. One of the party drew a revolver, but as the brethren arrested themselves with bills from the wood box, he concluded not to shoot. It is true that such fellows were "tough" that every church service is a war, and must not be disturbed. Let us be wiser somewhere else.

—A frightful accident occurred in Belmont Saturday forenoon. Little Fiddle, a five year old son of Mr. Washington Oliver, was riding horseback with L. O. Reiter, a boy aged ten years, when both were thrown off. The little fellow caught by the bridle, and hung dangling there until he struck a fence. The child's skull was a terrible concussion of the brain but no bones were broken, and there was a possibility of his recovery, though grave doubts are entertained.

—The funeral services of Mrs. Merritt Case were held at the residence yesterday afternoon, and were very largely attended. Rev. Henry Paville offered prayer and read appropriate passages of scripture, and of the service was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold. Mr. Will Follansbee, and Miss Cora Root. Mr. Case is confined to his bed by sickness and the funeral services were peculiarly sad on this account. The remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery followed by a large number of friends.

—Webb & Hall, the popular jewelers, are fitting their old stand with many new goods for the holiday trade. The showing of rich novelties and new designs is a dazzling one, and makes a show worthy of visiting. They have good taste in selecting their goods, and it is astonishing how many new and nice things they get their hands upon. We didn't suppose there were so many, but there are, and they have them. The display is a fine one, and in the more staple goods, they are also increasing their stock and are in good shape to supply all wants in their line.

DOOMED UNTIL DEATH.

Christiansen, who Butchered Fogarty, Pleads Guilty and Receives His Sentence.

Mrs. Fogarty Sheds a Few Tears, and Says She is Innocent of the Murder of Her Husband.

The Criminal Calendar Called in the Circuit Court To-day.

Sundry Doings.

This morning there was a flurry of sensationalism arising from the doings of the Circuit Court, the occasion being the calling of the criminal calendar, and the appearance in Court of some of the prisoners among whom Henry Christiansen, the murderer of Fogarty, was prominent. Mrs. Fogarty, also charged with taking a hand in the murder of her husband, was likewise an object of interest.

There was a little doubt felt at first as to what Christiansen's plea would be, he having of late been consulting lawyers, as though preparing for a trial, although his confession to having horribly butchered the man, has been given to the public long ago. On being brought before the bar this morning, he listened to the charge filed against him, and to it replied that he was guilty, but in his incoherent, palatable words of talking, insisted that he was not guilty. Considerable talk passed between him and the Judge, as to what he meant, Christensen acknowledged that he killed Fogarty, and the charge was true, but sought to apologize for the crime by saying that it was done in self defense. He seemed to regret that he had no witnesses to prove this, but was informed by the Judge that he was a competent witness on his own behalf as to this fact. He was asked a series of questions the answers to which showed that he clearly understood the charge, and the effect of pleading guilty, and he insisted on letting his plea stand. He wanted to be sentenced right away, and in his whole manner andmien showed the same heartyness which has characterized his conduct ever since his arrest.

He stood before the bar with his arms folded, and looked the Judge squarely in the face with no more change of countenance or blush of shame than if he was standing quietly talking to a neighbor. After it became evident that the man really meant his plea of guilty, and that he was anxious to receive the sentence, Judge Conger referring to the prisoner's remark that he did not commit the murder willingly, said:

"It seems marvelous that you should take it upon yourself to put forward anything to mitigate your crime morally. There is surely nothing to mitigate it legally. There are, of course, no facts before the court except that you are charged with murder committed on the 18th of October. Murder is the most heinous crime that can be committed. You have confessed to the act, and admitted the charge. Strange enough, you do not seem to appreciate yet that you have committed a crime, but if you live to be an old man, you will, I trust, come to appreciate it. I am about to pass sentence upon you, which will shut you out from the rest of the world, and the time will come, I trust, when you will feel that morally, as well as legally, you have committed a crime, for which retribution cannot be made. Not only will you be deprived of the opportunity of committing other murders, but opportunity will be given you for reflection. I trust that you will come to appreciate that you have committed a great crime. The sentence of the court and the law is that you be punished by hard labor in the State prison of this State for the term of your natural life, and that the first ten days of your confinement there be spent in solitary confinement, and that the 18th, 19th, and 20th days of October, of each and every year, be also passed by you in solitary confinement."

Christiansen stepped back, after receiving his sentence, the officers slipped the iron wristlets upon him, and he was led off to jail. This afternoon he was taken to Waupun by Sheriff Comstock, and Rock County is now rid of his presence.
Mrs. Fogarty, who is also charged with the murder, was arraigned this morning, and pleaded not guilty. She briefly protested her innocence of the great transgression, and after indulging in a slight weep, was taken back to jail to await her trial. The criminal calendar was called this morning. The cases of the State vs. Jam. McCarty, Charles Van Epr., Orway Hyatt, Daniel Griffin, Jerome Warner, Edward McKivitt, James Snell, and Jacob Snyder, were reported by the State's Attorney.

The following shows the action taken in other cases:

CLEVELAND, November 1, 1878.
Editors "Wauchter on Rites," Cleveland, Ohio: GENTLEMEN:—Allow me, as an old reader of your valued journal, to send you a few lines, which please insert in your next issue. I will vouch for their truth, and know that by their publication a great deal of good will be accomplished. Having been a reader of your paper for many years, I hope you will kindly grant my request.

For twelve years I have suffered, from time to time, terribly with Rheumatism, to such an extent that I was unable to move about and lost the use of my limbs. I tried everything recommended to effect a cure, consulted some of the most prominent physicians and expended large sums of money, hoping to find relief, but without any success. Glancing over the columns of the "Wauchter," I read about the St. Jacobs Oil, and the many cures therein readily had effect. I have been using it about 150 many times, I feel all faith in any remedy, the St. Jacobs Oil included, until I saw one day that it had cured a well-known citizen with whom I am acquainted. Other parties, fully endorsing the value and wonderful power of the Oil, telling me that it had cured them of different ailments in a very short time. This brought me to a conclusion, I said to myself, "Schweizer, fifty cents won't break you," so I went to my druggist, Mr. Block, bought a bottle of the Oil, and must now confess that the result was truly wonderful. I used it every two hours, and found relief immediately upon the first application, and the pain ceased entirely after a few more applications. Fearing a new attack, I remain in bed and continued to use the remedy every three hours. All pain having left me, I arose from my bed and walked down stairs without any trouble. Since that time I have been able to follow my occupation and feel no pains or inconvenience, however disagreeable the changes of the weather may be. Having thoroughly tested the St. Jacobs Oil, can conscientiously recommend it to all afflicted with Rheumatism. Fifty cents is a small expense when the services for so trifling an ailment are considered. It is one thousand miles away from all human habitation, I should never have procured this remedy and kept it always in my house.

SUNDAY SUNDRIES.

Moung Edwin, a Native Karen, Gives an Interesting Account of Burmah, and the Legend of the White Book—The Bible Anniversaries—Other Services.

Yesterday morning at the Baptist church Moung Edwin, a native Karen, gave a very interesting address on "The Triumphs of Christianity in Burmah." Moung Edwin's father was a Buddhist priest, and was afterwards converted to Christianity and is now pastor of a Baptist church there. This son came to this country about ten years ago and has put in his time getting an education. He took a collegiate course at Columbia college, and then a full theological course. Then thinking he ought to know something of law, he took a course of that, and has thus fitted himself for effective work in life. He has traveled about this country considerably, and has evidently been a close observer of customs, and of people. His intentions are to soon return to the old country, visiting England and other countries of Europe, Rome and Palestine, and thence to Burmah, where he will engage in missionary labors among his own people.

In his discourse yesterday morning he narrated many interesting facts concerning Burmah and his own tribe, the Karens. He drew a striking comparison between the effects of Buddhism and Christianity. In Burmah the Brahmins were highly educated men. They were philosophers and they had a literature which was hundreds of years old. The people looked upon them as gods, and followed their religious dictations. The Brahmins declared that there was salvation for the men, but none for the women. This carried such wretchedness to the hearts of mothers that it caused demoralization among the people. The Brahmins saw that they had made a mistake, but did not dare revoke their decree for fear they would lose their prestige. They finally said there was a sort of salvation for women, and it was this. If the women who were wives would willingly be buried alive on the funeral pyre of their dead husbands, this would secure for them as many years in heaven as there were years on the human body—which was estimated at about thirty millions. For this reason when a man died his wives would burn themselves alive, in many cases as many as fifty women offering up their lives with the body of one man, that they might secure a portion of true happiness.

From this the speaker drew the conclusion that the Brahmins did cure for their souls, and that they were willing to sacrifice their lives for their souls. The speaker gave a very interesting legend concerning the white book, and showed its effects on preparing the minds of the people to receive Christianity. According to this legend, which was firmly believed by the Karens, God once lived on earth. Men became sinful and God tried to get them to reform, but they would not listen, and in God in sorrow took his departure. He left, however, words of instruction to different tribes, some being written on leaves, some on bark, others on stone, and to the Karens he left his words written on leather. He did this because the Karens were a careless people. They called this "the white book" because it was pure and holy. God left it to an old man to take care of, for the old men in Burmah are greatly respected. After God had gone away the old man put the book in the eaves of the thatched roof of his house for safe keeping, but a rain came one day and the book was wet. The old man took it out of its hiding place, and put it on a stump to dry out in the sunshine, and then went about his daily work. While he was gone, the wind blew the book off the stump, and a dog soon after came along and picking up the book ran west with it. The old woman saw the dog carrying it off, and gave chase, but could not catch him. The old man on returning found "the white book" gone forever. He felt rather glad, as he had become tired of the responsibility of keeping charge of the book, but soon the people became very wicked, and sin prevailed. Then all wished that they had the book back, that they might be guided by it, and become good. For hundreds of years this book was prayed for. They believed that God would send it back from the West. Every dying father or mother would implore the children not to forget the white book, and thus they watched and waited for its return. When the missionary brought to them the Bible, and they began to read it in their own language, they declared it was the white book brought back to them out of the West. They were ready to receive it, and anxious to follow its teachings.

The speaker told of some of the marked changes which it had caused. The elevation of women, the bettering of morals, the increase of reverence, all of these and many other good effects had followed. The people had learned to read and write their own language, which they never did before, as the language had not been systematized before, and in fact was not a language.

A sample of the then gods was shown, and some interesting facts given concerning it. At the close of the morning service Moung Edwin visited the Sunday school, and gave the children a song in his native tongue, it being "From Greenland's Icy Mountains."

THE BIBLE ANNIVERSARY.

Last evening the congregations of the Congregational, Presbyterian and two Methodist churches, gathered at the Court Street church to further the interests of the Bible cause. The services opened with a rousing anthem by the choir. Rev. Mr. Sanderson, Rev. Mr. Sewell, and Rev. Mr. Paville took part in the opening exercises which consisted of prayer, reading of the scriptures, etc. A male quartet, consisting of Messrs C. M. Vankirk, Charlie Wingate, Charlie Clark, and Will Buttrick, sang "Nearer My God to Thee." Mr. Vankirk doing the solo work, and the others joining with him in the chorus.

Rev. D. B. Jackson was the first speaker of the evening. His theme was "The Inspiration of the Scriptures." He clearly showed some of the reasons for such a belief, first being the necessity for such a revelation, and the paucity of all knowledge of God gained from other sources, and then the internal evidence of the book itself. His address was concise, logical and held the attention of all.

Rev. T. P. Sawin gave an earnest address on "The Permanence of the Scriptures." He spoke of the length of time it had already stood, and the effects of its work, and showed that its mission had just begun. He handled some of those who had attacked the old faith, and urged them to produce something better before they attempted to take away the faith already possessed.

The congregation was dismissed with the doxology and benediction.

TALKS TO THE YOUNG FOLK.

An unusually large audience gathered at the Baptist church last evening to listen to the second of the series of discourses. Rev. Mr. Chapell is giving to the young people. The subject was "Choosing a Calling" founded on the text "Lord what wilt thou have me do?" The speaker developed the idea that every one, in the providence of God, had a place or pursuit to which he was called; and that it was duty to find and fill that place. Many practical suggestions to this end were given. The discourse was listened to with close attention, and seemed very appropriate to the week of prayer, which the Y. M. C. A. are observing. The subject for next Sabbath evening is "Courtship and Marriage."

The Curse of Americans is Impetuosity!
We cannot do anything moderately. We don't take time to eat or drink. When the season of social gatherings comes on in Winter, we rush from one to another, night after night, until we become tired out and the system is run down. In summer we fly to the watering places and idle away our time in luxury. No wonder that we become "bowed" in middle life. Then we try medicine to recuperate, and often resort to unfortunate stimulation in the vain hope of winning back our youthful energies. Every European sees this. As things are, the best remedy, when the physical powers begin to decline, is the PANTHARIN SYSTEM, which has for many years been used in exactly this direction. It is the best food known to man and the least injurious. It restores wasting energies, strengthens the system against the malicious maladies which are induced by weakness, and builds up the system properly and effectively. Sold by dealers generally.
